

TONIGHT THERE'S A NEW STAR UP YONDER - © Lee Reeves

There's a small precious bed that lies empty
There's a doll lying there on the floor
There are toys and a dress
Lying there with the rest
That our baby won't use anymore

Oh we knelt by her bedside till morning
But we knew it was only in vain
Cause soon the great Master would call her
And release her from suffering and pain.

Chorus:

So tonight, there's a new star up yonder
A bright guiding light for us all
And I know, she's an angel up in heaven
For our darling has answered his call

And she cried for a kiss from her mother
And she prayed send her back home once more
She whispered Daddy, don't cry
For now I must say goodbye
And dear God, please send Mommy my love

She has left for her new home up yonder
As the dawn swept the stars from above
Dear God, she must know
How we miss her so
Cause we all were so happy before.

Chorus:
